Presiding Elder William Meeks

HARVEY MEEKS

Harvey Meeks, the son of William Meeks and Mary Elizabeth Rhodes, was born April 9, 1838. He came to Utah with his parents in 1852, in Captain Nissonger's Company,

He married Sarah Catherine Dowdle who came to Utah in 1847. To Harvey and Sarah Catherine were born the following children:

Harvey Porter Jane Catherine William Hyrum David Henry Electa Ann Mary Elizabeth John Jerde George Wylie Loretta Mae Thomas Elmer.

The Harvey Meeks' were good parents and true pioneers. Mr. Meeks delighted in well bred horses and always drove a beautiful span of high spirited animals. Mrs. Meeks was clean and orderly.

WILLIAM AND MARY ELIZABETH RHODES MEEKS

William Meeks, son of Athe and Ann Vest Meeks.

Born January 9, 1815, in Charleston, South Carolina.

Married Mary Elizabeth Rhodes. Died November 30, 1877, St. George, Utah, killed riding a horse.

Mary Elizabeth Rhodes, daughter of George Henry Rhodes and Elizabeth Nisinger. Born January 23, 1818, in Boone, Warnock County, Indiana. Died March 20 1900 at Bicknell, Utah.

William came to Utah in 1852 in Capt. Nissonger's Company with his parents. Afarriving in Utah the Meeks family moved Nephi. Utah. Three years later they ere called to go to Fort Supply in Wyomang where they stayed during the time Johnston's army came through.

In 1858 or 1859 William Mecks came into Provo Valley with Joseph Parker, William Cummings, William Wall and Andrew Ross. They cut some hay and fed their livestock on what they called Meek's Bottom about two miles southwest of the sesent Heber City.

During the winter of 1859 and 1860 Wilan Meeks and others built a sawmill in Center Creek Canyon, which was the pioneer sawmill in the valley. A grand-daughter, Mary Ann Meeks Wirthlin says her grandfather, William Meeks suggested that the town be called Heber City, after the given name of Heber C. Kimball.

William Meeks was the first Presiding Elder in the valley. In 1860 he helped to build a log cabin, 16 feet by 40 feet which is used for the Pioneer Day celebration at year.

The Meeks family moved to Provo from Heber City and Midway, and from there to St. George where William was killed in a horse accident.

Children of William and Mary were: Harvey, married Catherene Dowdle Henry, married Ann Mecham Elizabeth, married lared Bullock Mary Ann, married William Cummings William, married Sarah Gardner Joseph, married Vilate Burgess
